

Health Transition:
Where is it at and how successful have we been at engaging?

Rachel Quinn

Chief Executive

June 2013

Summary of the Health and Social Care Act 2012

Making the NHS more responsive, efficient and accountable by:

Key areas

- establishes an independent NHS Commissioning Board to allocate resources and provide commissioning guidance
- increases GPs' powers to commission services on behalf of their local populations
- Increased patient choice
- Establishment of HealthWatch as a voice for patients and communities
- New focus for Public Health
- Strengthened role of the Care Quality Commission & Monitor
- Streamlined tiers of management to reduce costs and increase productivity

Local changes

- Closure of PCTs and Strategic Health Authorities
- Creation of:
  - Health and Wellbeing Boards
  - GP led Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs)
  - HealthWatch
- Increased role for Local Authorities:
  - Transfer of Public Health functions to LAs
  - Joint Strategic Needs Assessment (JSNA)
  - Joint Health and Wellbeing Strategies
- Localised spending decisions, personalisation and provider diversification

Regional Network

Strategic partner with Department of Health

Recent activities and future priorities:

- Tools and support to increase local engagement and influence (and mapping):
  - CCGs and HWBs
  - Public Health
  - HealthWatch
- Relationship with PHE
- Co-production with ADASS – personalisation
- Increasing voice and engagement of Young People
- Economic impact of VCS H&WB interventions

Where are we at?

- Health & Wellbeing Board engagement
- Clinical Commissioning Groups
- HealthWatch
- Public Health
- Social care and personalisation

